reporting online

Essential to any K-12 Administration Software product is governmental reporting. Public school districts are very reliant upon governmental dollars for their daily operation. In exchange for these monies, the governmental agencies invariably require specialized and stringent reporting from the districts. School districts are also large distributors of funds, and, as such, are subject to the same reporting requirements as all other businesses.

It is CrossPointe's unconditional guarantee that our software modules meet all required governmental reporting demands. These reporting demands include Federal W-2s, 1099s, GASB 34 reporting, as well as state reporting of retirement plans, and district information to the appropriate State Department of Education. The CrossPointe Schools OnLine™ software maintenance and support agreements specifically provide for customized state reporting preparation and for all necessary updates as the reporting requirements change over time.

The CrossPointe Schools OnLine™ system design gives us a distinct advantage over other products in the marketplace for meeting governmental reporting requirements. The system records and stores all transactions creating a highly detailed database. Without interruption to normal workflow, the system then extracts date sensitive data on demand to provide a "snapshot" of information as it exists at any requested point in time. The CrossPointe application suite replicates the edits and relational validations required by the state, and run them against the "snapshot" data. Interactive facilities that support adjusting and correcting entries, with an audit trail, enable modification of the database "snapshot". Data corrections are made prior to submission to the governmental agency. Both electronic and paper transmission media are supported to allow the district flexibility and to provide the most efficient and effective method of delivery.

CrossPointe's 24-year history of service to school districts makes us uniquely qualified to address the critical nature of these reporting requirements and, as such, continue to maintain detailed knowledge of state and federal reporting required of each district.

CrossPointe Schools OnLine™ is a fully integrated, enterprise-wide complete school administration software system. Therefore, CrossPointe Supply Chain Management OnLine™ integrates with CrossPointe Student Records OnLine™, CrossPointe Human Resources OnLine™, CrossPointe Financial Information OnLine™, and CrossPointe State Reporting OnLine™.
